Energy Management System

Consulting Service to bring up an organisation To the level of Self-Declare ISO 50001 Conformance

If you appreciate the content of ISO 50001, then you come to realize that...
ISO 50001 is not at all particular about the "certification".

ISO 50001 is particular about "Improving your energy performance"

It strongly recommends to take the essence rather than formalities.

So, what is the "essence"?

It is to ensure adding value to your business and its sustainability by improving energy performance in your operation.

So then, exactly what is ISO 50001 requiring?

Nothing. It is to promote the mission that each organization has:
"Sustainable business development" through achieving the energy performance improvement objectives and targets, as a result of implementing the energy management system in line with the business operation... This is ISO 50001's aim and hope.

So then, how do you proceed with the ISO 50001 EnMS operation?

Top management must lead, appointing influential management representative "person responsible for energy management (PRE) or EnMS champion", to run an aggressive EnMS operation with all people involved under the effective EnMS organisation.

However, the operation requiring all people's involvement with a proper teamwork that requires adequate documentation to ensure people sharing common information and knowledge. For the EnMS operation, without proper documents, actions are vulnerable.

We can set up your organisation to the level of "Self-Declare" ISO 50001 conformance in one month!!

Our work output example: (In general, for the work intensity for the work below is approx. 20 man-days)

- Review the management involvement, energy policy and the EnMS organisation.
- Data review and analysis to identify operational energy performance improvement target estimate.
- Review the available EnMS related documents and provide supplement work on missing parts.
- Understand what was done in energy review in the past.
- Understand any on-going activities related to the EnMS operation and the progress.
- Evaluate the monitoring and targeting approach and to provide recommendation.
- Gap analysis
- Identify necessary improvement action items and implement for ISO 50001 conformances.
- Provide necessary training on the EnMS operation that conforms to ISO50001.
- ISO conformance review (interview sessions with the significant energy user) and implement a mini-audit to create the ISO 50001 conformity report.
- Continual improvement recommendation and follow up assistance in ISO 50001 certification or "Self-Declaration"

A bi-lingual (Japanese-English) EnMS dedicated consultant...

...available for responding to the specific global needs

Having had more than 15 years of in-depth energy management experience working with various energy users globally, our mission is to guide energy users to enhance their EnMS operation to the level of self-declaring ISO 50001 conformance as well as to meet other regulations (e.g. to conform to the EnMS charter requirements enforced by the energy conservation law for business units situated in Japan). Additionally we recognise the importance of the documentation in the EnMS operation and provide various key guideline management documents both in English and Japanese such as EnMS Charters, Energy Review Report, Monitoring & Targeting (M&T), etc. Sustainable Business Development in the field of EnMS is our business objective.

- Fixer of enhancing business competitiveness globally through Sustainable Business Development based upon Environmental and EnMS operation
- Consultant: Energy Management System compliance to ISO 50001
- EnMS "Guidebook+template in one" author for the documentation in line with ISO50001
